Democrats To Hold Giant Rally October 18 In Rosebud Stadium

An old-time political institution will be revived in Rosebud Thursday, October 18, with the staging of a giant "Farmers of Stevenson" rally sparked by state and national farm leaders.

Central Texans can hear western and hillbilly music, collect gate prizes and listen to Democratic speakers when the rally gets underway in the Rosebud football stadium at 7 p.m.

A farm program speech of national significance is scheduled by Cong. Bob Poage of Waco. Other phases of the present farm problem will be discussed by Cong. "Tiger" Teague of College Station and Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White of Austin.

Rosebud mayor and banker, J. Albert Tarver, Jr., has urged all votes in an 11-county surrounding area to attend the meeting. No admission fee will be charged and everyone will be eligible to win an electric skillet "to fry the Republicans in" or other household appliances as a gate prize, he said.

Commissioner John White said the rally will stress the need for "telling the truth about what is happening to our farm people under the present administration.

"Too many city folks have been lulled into a dangerously false sense of security by Republican campaign statements. The economic crisis of our farmers is a cancer spot that can spread to other groups without proper controls", said White.

The Rosebud meeting is the first of a series to be conducted over Texas before the presidential election. Others are set in Sweetwater, Hale Center, Corpus Christi and additional towns to be named later.

Cameron Fire Fighters Set Time Record In Area Competition

Cameron Volunteer Fire Department set the fastest time in getting their fire hoses in operation Sunday, October 7, in the Central Texas Fire Associations meet held in Hearne, there were nine fire teams present although the Rosebud team was unable to enter into the competition because of a death in the family of one of their team members.

Time for the Cameron team was 21.9 seconds while Granger was second with 22.4 seconds and Thorndale third with 23.9 seconds. The Brenham and Round Rock teams were out of the running but did set times of 24.0 and 26.9 seconds respectively. Other teams in the competition but failing to set times because their fire hoses came off were Belton, Killeen and Taylor.

Members of the Cameron Fire Department serving on the winning team were Jerry Mikula, Buck Slavik, Edwin Kohutek, Jack Logan, Jimmy (Shorty) Thompson and Vaughan Jenness. Awards of $50, $30 and $20 were presented to the three winning teams for their respective places in the winners' circle.

Five women teams representing the Ladies' Auxiliaries of five of the departments also met in competition. In order of their speed in setting up a fire hose for competition, they were Brenham, 23.5 seconds; Killeen, 27.0 seconds and Round Rock 27.5 seconds. Granger and Thorndale teams of ladies failed to set a time when their fire hoses became disconnected.

According to Sheriff Carl Black, fire chief of the Cameron Fire Department, the next competitive meeting of volunteer departments in the Central Texas Fire Association will be held in May, 1957, at Killeen.

Cameron Poultry Farm Wins Five Awards At State Fair

Five out of eight of the championship awards for senior egg production flocks were won Monday at the Poultry Show at the Texas State Fair in Dallas by the Ideal Poultry Farm of Cameron.

These awards were for the grand champion female, reserve champion male (White Rock), grand champion pen of four (one male and three females), reserve champion pen of four (one male and three females) and grand champion display. Except where otherwise specified, all the farm's entries were White Leghorns.

One of these is the three way strain cross White Leghorns developed at the farm during the past five years. These D-3-W birds also recently finished in second place in the Oklahoma egg laying test, missing first place by less than two points. They have credit for two more eggs than the first place pen. These hens laid 222 eggs in 300 days with 92.6 percent livability.

Another cross strain at the Ideal Farm is their H-3-W pullets. During the month of August these birds averaged 70.07 percent production. Death losses with this strain for the first three months of production is at only two percent.

Communicable Diseases Reach New Low Incidence Here In September

One patient, who was found on the survey X-ray as a tuberculosis suspect, has been moved from the "under observation" classification to the active disease classification. This patient has minimal degree of active tuberculosis and is receiving treatment through the Health Unit. A patient who has been awaiting hospital admission more than two months finally was admitted.

Final plans for the fall school immunization program have been completed and request slips have been issued to the first two groups of schools, as immunizations will start October 1.

Cameron approved $375,000 water improvement bonds and $175,000 sewer improvement bonds on September 29. It is expected that the improvements on the dam, pump house and water line will be completed by next summer so that more adequate supplies of water will be available. The new water and sewage treatment plants will take more time.

Communicable diseases reported during September reached a very low point. Highest in incidence were streptococcal infections which numbered 12 cases. Other diseases reported were 3 gonorrhea, two syphilis cases and one whooping cough case.

Polio series given in the Milam County Health Unit clinics numbered 16 and boosters numbered 17. It is expected that boosters will increase in the next few months as many children, who received their first two shots in the spring and early summer, will return for their booster polio shots.

Commissioner Says . . .

Jones Prairie Right-of-Way Ready For Contract Letting

County Commissioner "Doc" Markham and County Judge Charles Smith Monday in regular meeting of the county commissioners body discussed the construction of the Jones Prairie road. Markham stated he has now set the fences along the right of way back and had the said right of way in readiness for the state highway department to begin construction work.

Smith stated he was not holding up the work. He further explained it did not matter so long as the lettings are made whether the telephone company and rural electrification installations were moved back before the construction began.

The Judge declared that just so the lettings are made he doesn't care which is first. Markham said, out of court, that the Judge is holding up for a simultaneous letting of the Jones Prairie and the Salem roads (which are twenty miles apart.) And he, Markham, is experiencing difficulty in getting the right of way on the Salem project.

Grady Stidham, spokesman for city council, with Roy Griffith and Lincoln Mondrik asked relief from County Court Monday on the grass fires attended by the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department. The suggestion of $15 for grass and $25 for building fires was "taken under consideration" by the court and later described by one commissioner as "Placed in file 13."

Judge Smith brought old files to show where the city had defaulted in previous years on its payment to the county for services of the County Health Department and sought to show that the city is not coming off so badly in view of the $3,900 bill accumulated in this department. He pointed out that the city should not take the $18,000 La France truck to fires because of the liability.

Lincoln Mondrik suggested that the county pay enough for their grass fires so that the city could amortize a specially equipped truck that would carry up to 15,000 gallons of water. To this ex-commissioner Stidham said that the county bridges would not hold up the weight.

First Baptist "Oriental Cafe" Authentic Enough For Co-Eds

Chung Won "Debbie" Park and Amelia K. Lei, both of Seoul South Korea, with their school chum of Mary Hardin Baylor, Hatsuko Margaret O No of Kokura, Japan are shown as they sat in the "Oriental Cafe" of the First Baptist Church Friday night following the Cameron-Marlin football game. They are being served by a fellow student, Mrs. Helen Marie Patterson. In the background are members of the young set who are feted each home game night with Baptist fellowship.

Miss Park told of her uncle being Chief of the Korean Air Force. She is going back to teach English in Korea and told that education is the same in Korea as here. She and her roommate are Juniors at Mary Hardin Baylor.

Miss Hatsuko Margaret O No is now in the U.S. only three weeks from Kokura, Japan and is classified as a "Special" student since her transcript is in transit.

Amelia Lei, center, is a music major from Seoul. She worked in the Eighth Army library in Korea for three years. She played the piano for the gathering as her countryman sang their national anthem. Amelia greeted the gathering with "Howdy You All."

Big Elm Watershed Program Forges Ahead

Elm Creek Watershed organizational work is progressing with the latest meeting, moving north of Highway 53 and held in Oenaville on Monday night. It was arranged by David Haggard who was elected committeeman for that area.

The program was under direction of Buster Griffin and included Soil Conservationist, Carl Young of Temple, Verne C. Marshall, Agricultural Representative with the Temple National Bank and Charles Teague, president of the Moody Bank.

Aim of the watershed program was explained by Young who said "The aim is to trap the extra water in retention dams, thereby preventing flood damage to land, crops and roads." A 1945 survey, he said, showed the annual loss to roads in this district to be in excess of $9,000. Rising cost would about triple that estimate today.

A complete conservation program can be compared to links in a chain. The first link is complete conservation on the land. The second link is our large dams such as Belton and the proposed Proctor dam. These dams are silting up at an exceedingly fast rate. The middle and most important link is our upstream watershed programs.

Mr. Teague, owner of a farm on which one of these structures is located most heartily endorsed the program and answered questions asked by the group.

Veteran conservationist Verne C. Marshall, of Bell County said "We must never have the idea that an important project of this kind will come into being without a lot of work on the part of a lot of people. 99 percent of that job will be getting the information over to the people."

The group expressed their appreciation to both the Cameron Herald and radio station KMIL for excellent coverage of watershed progress.

Next meeting will be held in Troy next week. The date to be announced later.

A Salute

The HERALD joins president Eisenhower in proclaiming the week of October 7-13 as National Pharmacy Week. Especially in Cameron.!

What is a pharmacist?

He is a member of the "health team." His team-mates are the family doctors, specialists, nurses and hospital administrators who work for better community health.

He is the "scientist on the corner." He is that unique storekeeper who must have a college degree in pharmacy and pass the rigid examination of the State Board of Pharmacy in order to win the honored title of "Registered Pharmacist." But he does not stop there. Through professional journals and meetings he is up to date on the latest research and developments in pharmacy and medicine.

He is the physician's colleague and trusted aide. In direct contact with drug manufacturers, he helps keep the busy physician informed on the hundreds of new prescription drugs developed each year.

He is the physician's "warehouse." He must stock every drug that may be prescribed by the doctors he serves . . . medicines for hay fever, arthritis, the common cold . . . thousands of them. Many resemble one another, but there are no substitutes. The pharmacist fills every prescription exactly as ordered.

He is a good neighbor. He knows and likes his customers. He values their friendship and confidence in his professional skill—that skill which stands always dedicated to the well-being of his neighbors.

He is a public servant. President Eisenhower, in proclaiming National Pharmacy Week, has called attention to "the splendid services rendered by the pharmacists of America to the health of our people."

Because the pharmacist is all these things, he deserves a tribute of thanks for his devoted and indispensable service throughout the year.

3200 Milam Farms Offered Fire Info

Four out of every five electrified farms in the United States are loaded with electrical fire hazards.

Project this figure: there are nearly 5,000,000 electrified farms in the nation; hence 4,000,000 of them come under this dire classification. Milam County alone has approximately 3200 farms with a large majority being electrified.

It's hard to believe but true, claims Glenn Rowell of the Fire Underwriters Inspection Bureau of Minnesota and chairman of one of the 14 panels that make up the National Fire Protection Association's National Electrical Code (nation's most widely adopted safety code.

The 4,000,000 electrified farms are loaded with potential life, and fire hazards brought about by a combination of overloading and use of wiring materials never intended for use in damp or corrosive locations, he says.

When electricity first replaced the kerosene lamp in farmsteads, it was looked upon merely as a lighting substitute. The glaring mistake was made in failing to recognize the farm as an industrial establishment where electrical wiring materials would be subject to moisture, corrosive atmosphere and wide temperature changes.

Electrification grew by leaps and bounds; more appliances, labor saving, profit-making devices were added.

But a farm wired by 100 kilowatt hours per month cannot operate profitably or safely when 350 kilowatt hours are needed each month.

The actual seriousness of the problem is pointed up by these recent statistics; out of over 40,000 farmstead electrical reinspections in Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Dakotas, less than 800 were found free of life or fire hazards!

The answer? Reinspection and a complete rewiring program, says Mr. Rowell. And, he predicts the farm load will reach 1200 kilowatt hours per month within the next ten years.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER COMES OUT FOR THE RIGHT OF A MAN TO STAY SITTING IF HE WANTS TO

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River discusses sitting down as opposed to working this week, one subject on which he must be an authority.

Dear editar:

I made a special trip into town yesterday to get hold of a newspaper to find out what my economic index was for this week. As I understand it, the government in Washington now knows more about whether a man is well off than he does himself and about every two weeks issues a set of figures showing whether the prosperity index is two points up or down, holding its own, etc., and while I have never been able to get a bank to honor my checks on the strength of a jump upward in the economic index, still I like to get these reports.

According to this one, the country is now at its highest peak of prosperity in history, and while the figures have the same meaning to me that the figures showing the nation was at its healtiest peak in history would have to a man in the hospital, still I've always contended there was an advantage in being busted during prosperity instead of a depression. Even if you aren't inside the stadium watching the game, there's some satisfaction in hearing the cheers of the crowd and imagining what's going on.

But don't get the idea that I'm complaining. I know there are people in Washington who say if I'd get up and go to work, I'd be better off, but that's because whoever said that doesn't know how much pleasure there is in sitting where you are. At the moment, I'm writing this sitting under a shade tree watching the month of October unfold, and if anybody in Washington thinks I'd be happier if I leaped on my tractor and started stirring up the dust, he either likes dust better than I do or he hasn't got a calendar. Furthermore, there are people who also say if a lot of government people would get up and go to work, they'd be better off, or at least the country would, but I want it understood I'm perfectly neutral in this.

Whether a man gets up or sits, is a matter for him to decide, doesn't make any difference whether he's sitting out here on my farm or in a swivel chair in Washington. And as far as the country is concerned, it's about as well off with some people sitting. There's nothing personal in this, but where were you when you read this?

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

STATE FAIR OF TEXAS DALLAS

OCTOBER 6-21

Oil Progress Week Being Observed In Milam County

Oil Progress Week is being observed this week throughout the nation and especially in Texas where a large portion of the country's total supply is produced. Texas processes 28 percent of the oil processed in the entire nation.

Milam County is the site of the Minerva Oil Field currently producing crude oil from a large number of wells. The field is located midway between Cameron and Rockdale.

Minerva Refinery for the last five or six years has been closed down. Part of the equipment necessary for processing of oil is reportedly still in the plant. However, crude oil been produced in the Minerva Field is at present being shipped to other refineries by tank cars.

Modernization, increased capacity, a hike in the amount of Texas crude oil processed, and high-level employment - all are part of the Texas refining industry's progress in the postwar decade, according to the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association in a special Oil Progress Week report.

From 1946 to 1956, plant capacity of the Texas refining industry jumped from 1.5 million barrels a day to 2.4 million, a 60 per cent increase, according to the new edition of the booklet, Texas Oil and Gas, published by the Association, in a review of the past decade.

Amount of crude oil processed in 1946 was 503 million barrels and jumped to 764 million 10 years later. Texas now processes 72 per cent of the state's crude oil production and accounts for about 28 per cent of the oil processed in the U.S.

Refinery improvements brought on by public demand for higher octanes and better oil products, has taken its toll of uneconomic refinery operations in Texas. In the 10-year period since World War II, the number of plants dropped from 77 to 61.

An estimated $2 billion-plus have been invested in Texas refineries. According to a Department of Commerce survey, about $160 million, or 37 per cent, of the total new capital expenditures made in Texas manufacturing in 1954 was for refinery improvement and expansion.

The refining and chemical industries combined accounted for 67 per cent of the total.

For the same year, the census revealed that refining accounted for about 14 per cent of the total value added by manufacturing in all Texas industries, or $475 million. Chemical manufacturing (petrochemicals are closely allied to refining operations topped all other Texas industries in this respect with $725 million. Food processing was second with $534 million, and refining, third.

According to Texas Oil and Gas, one out of every 10 Texans employed in manufacturing works in a Texas oil refinery. These 45,000 refinery workers draw about $250 million a year in wages. With a mid-1956 hourly average of $2.68, refinery workers have the highest wage scale in the state.

The effect of the refining industry on Texas' economic activity reaches far beyond the plant, the Association said. It has been estimated that for every 100 jobs created in a refinery, 74 new jobs spring up elsewhere.

Fish Story Here Has Olds Catch; Wild West Scene

Cameron and Milam County residents, who have been wondering about the 1951 Oldsmobile fished from Little River, can now rest assured that the vehicle is not a "fish story." The automobile was fished from the river where it had been driven in a headlong dive as an attempt to conceal it.

Sheriff Carl Black said Wednesday after the car had been recovered from the river, his office made a search of Texas registrations to find that it was not listed in this state. From National Automobile Theft Bureau in Detroit, Michigan, it was learned that the vehicle had been stolen in Jereyville, Illinois.

The sheriff also revealed that the alleged parties involved in unlawful possession of the car have been apprehended. They are believed to be the same two, who after disposing of the car, attempted to hijack a service station in Sanderson, Texas, near El Paso. At that point the two men met with opposition from the station operator, who shot it out with them. As a result they are now being held by the sheriff's office in that city. The two men have been tentatively identified as John Beach Markle and Ray O'Dell, Sheriff Black said.

This "washed-out" automobile, since its removal from the Little River where it was located laying upon its back, has been on the Hefley-Stedman Motor Company lot in Cameron.

Teacher Retirement

Announcement For Amendment 4

Texas now requires four thousand additional teachers each year to face the one hundred thousand additional pupils enrolling in Texas public schools. At the same time, almost seven thousand teachers leave the profession annually.

For additions and replacements, eleven thousand additional teachers are required at the beginning of each school term. By 1960, 43 thousand more teachers must be recruited into teaching if the loss continues at its present pace.

This requirement cannot be met consequently, as many of the seven thousand as possible must be held in service.

On November 6, the voters of Texas will have an opportunity to approve Amendment No. 4 which will improve the present Teacher Retirement Program and will do much to hold in service many experienced teachers who now are ed inducement in the recruitment of capable young people to teaching.

The shortage of teachers is the NUMBER ONE problem confronting Texas and the nation. A vote FOR Amendment No. 4 on November 6 is a vote to alleviate this shortage and help solve this most pressing problem.

Cameron Yoemen Upset By Marlin 38-6

Cameron Yoemen went against Marlin last Friday night on their home gridiron and were walloped by the underdogs 38-6. Yoemen fumbles and "deadeye" passes by the Bulldogs averaging gains of 39 yards each accounted for two TD's in each of the first, second and fourth quarters for the Marlin squad. Cameron scored their lone talley midway in the second period.

Coach Leo Jackson's men fought a gallant fight but their butter fingers lost the ball almost everytime it came within their possession and before they could get rolling. Bobby Elliott attempted five passes with long range destinations but none hit the intended receivers. The longest ground gains by Yoemen were in the first few minutes of the game and in their only successful bid for a tally. In the first of these, Elliott received the ball from the center and faded back from the line of scrimmage on the Yoemen's own 30 yard line. Finding no potential receiver in the clear, he then went around his own left end for a 17 yard gain to the 47 yard line.

Warren Rinn, 145-pound halfback for the Yoemen, was the home town's most consistent ground gainer. He and Guy Dillon picked up by far the largest portion of Cameron's 130 yards gained through the line and around their ends. Almost the only unique and sensational play of the game for both teams was performed by Rinn with the opening play in the fourth quarter. It was the Bulldogs' ball and the Marlin quarterback, Max Chapman tossed a long pass to a possible receiver. Rinn came in from out of nowhere and intercepted the ball on Yoeman's one yard line and returned it 40 yards through the entire Bulldog eleven.

In gaining their touchdown, Cameron came in possession of the ball when a Marlin back fumbled on his own 40 yard line. Recovered by a Yoeman, a series of runs by Dillon advanced the ball to the 26 yard line. These runs were followed by an attempted pass from Elliott to Rinn and failing this, Rinn next took a handoff from Quarterback Elliott and plunged 26 yards through the line for the score. A conversion attempt failed.

Stopping the continually advancing Bulldogs found Guard Paul Hoelscher, End Ray Green, End Arthur Marek and linebacker Dillon in most of the defensive action.

Marlin's first score came when they received a punt on Cameron's 40 and returned same to the 34. The next play was a pass from Bill Bradshaw to Gerry Burks, who went over without having a hand laid upon him. The conversion was good and the Marlin powerhouse was rolling with the score 7-0.

Their next was also in the first quarter. Bulldog Max Chapman tossed a pass to Gary Cohn completed for a gain of 54 yards and another talley. Both these first scores were set up when Cameron backs' lost the ball on fumbles. Sam Byer transferred from a tackle spot to fullback for the first time in this game then advanced the ball each time on large ground gains. Tallies followed.

This second TD was followed with a foul kickoff by the Marlin booter and was downed by a Bulldog on his own 48 yard line. Unable to advance, the Yoemen punted out but the ball flipped and rolled out of bounds on the 42. They also were unable to advance and the Bulldog punt went down on the Yoeman 10 yard line where the receiver fumbled, the ball bounced across the goal line and a number of Marlin men covered it for another TD. Again their conversion attempt failed.

Yoemen then scored their talley and followed with a kickoff to the Bulldogs. Byers again with some aid from one or two other running Marlin backs almost immediately advanced the ball to within scoring position. Chapman tossed another long one to Cohn and although a Cameron safety man slapped the ball in an attempt to make it incomplete, Cohn reversed his field by a couple of steps to take it and again score. Conversion attempt was again futile.

There was no scores in the third quarter by either team. Except for the first minute of this quarter and the final two plays, the pigskin stayed within the two 38-yard lines of the gridiron during the entire period. In those final two plays, however, Cohn took another Chapman pass from the 42 yard line which was good for 18 yards. Byer then advanced it on the ground to the 19 where the quarter ended.

Warren Rinn, 145-pound Yoeman halfback, gains yardage against the Marlin Bulldogs around the left end prior to being brought down by the opposition. His performance in the Cameron-Marlin game was outstanding in ground gains. At the left is Tackle Billie Kostroun, who was late in blocking out the successful Bulldog tackler.

In the fourth quarter, the ball exchanged hands four times until with less than four minutes remaining in the game, a Bulldog back got off a punt which rolled out of bounds in a coffin corner on the Yoemen's end of the field. The Yoemen fumbled on their own three from where Byer plunged over for another score.

Fans were already leaving the stand as Cameron received the kickoff on their 19 and returned the ball to the 29. Another fumble and it was Marlin's ball at that point. Allen Brunson carried from there to the 16 yard line, Byer advanced it to within a shadow of the goal line and Brunson went over making the final score 38-6.

With all the Yoemen's fumbling, it was Bulldog Don Swinnea, who played an outstanding part from his position as guard in recovering those fumbles for Marlin.

Cameron captains for the game were Elliott, Dillon and Hoelscher. Those for Marlin were Dan Kubiak and Swinnea.

Invocation proceeding the game was delivered by the Rev. A. F. Russell of the First Baptist Church in Cameron. Half time features of the game were provided by the school bands from Cameron and Marlin.

Bulldogs Beat Calvert, 13-6

O. J. Thomas Bulldogs moved deep into Brazos Bottom to chalk up their second win of the season after dropping their opening game. This time the victims were a group of fighting Panthers who desperately tried to keep the Bulldogs offense in check.

The game rocked along until late in the second quarter when Earnest Lewis skirted his own left end, shaking off five would-be tacklers and moved 30 yards for a touchdown. Q. C. Pratt's try for point was to the left and the Bulldogs led at half time 6-0.

Bulldogs took the kick-off to resume play in the second half and moved 65 yards in 10 plays to score their second touchdown with Lewis this time powering his way over right tackle for the last 16 yards.

Leonard Knox converted to make the score 13-0. Calverts' touchdown was made deep in the fourth quarter when the Bulldogs were found guilty of two off-side infractions.

Standout players along with Lewis were Paul Cavil Jr., Leonard Knox, Q. C. Pratt, Nolan Webb, Billy Green, Robert Wright and Floyd Dickey.

Yoeman "B" Squad Drop Contest To Marlin "B's" By 27-0 Score

Cameron's "B" Squad traveled to Marlin Thursday night, October 4, to meet the opposing Marlin "B" eleven. It was an off night for the Cameron team as Marlin handed them a defeat of 27-0.

Marlin showed a versatile offense. They made gains on both the ground and through the air almost at will. Two of their four TD's were picked up by passing and the other two on the ground. They failed only one conversion attempt. The three successful tries were each obtained by running the ball over. Touchdowns with one being in each of the four quarters of the contest.

Underdogs in the game against Bryan the previous week in which the Yoemen "B" team poured on the power and battle tactics necessary to take the game found the same boys unable to click well enough to stop the Marlin "B" bulldogs. However, twice they were able to advance the ball to within one yard of the goal line being defended by the Marlin gridsters. Both occasions found them halted by a seemingly brick wall formed by the Marlin squad.

Coach Webster said it was an off night for the entire team including both the regulars and the reserves. Jay Tepera, guard for the Yoemen, was the outstanding player for the Cameron team for which there were 24 men suited out. Tepera was in on or else made practically every tackle for the Yoemen defense.

Boyce, Zawadzke, Humplik Roll Over 500 Series

This week at the Cameron Bowling Center the heat was on and the competition was great to all contenders, but Doc Boyce got hot and rolled the high three game series with 184, 201, 174 for a 559, while Joe Zawadzke was equally as warm with a 169, 201, 157, for a 527 series. Joe Humplik was no slouch with his 518 series. There was no loafing with quarterback C. Burke who rolled a 201. Jim Joseph rolled the second high single with a sizzling 195, and if he hadn't fouled in the last frame he would have been well over the 220 mark. Better luck next time Jim.

Team play was equally as sharp as Falstaff knocked over KMIL for four games, First National Bank shut out Temple K of C, while Pearl beat Alcoa 3-1, and Dr. Pepper topped Grand Prize 3-1.

First National Bank hit a 832 high single game, while Falstaff netted 826 for second and unpredictable Alcoa whizzed in third with a 807. Falstaff boys are champs this week for total three game series - 2381, with the banker boys breathing down their necks with a 2347. Pearl was third with 2290.

Numerous splits were picked up this week. C. Burke and F. Heitmann got the 4-5 with no trouble, while J. McGoldrick smashed through and got the 3-10, D. Wertz 5-7, F. Hyder 5-6, L. Marak 5-10, Doc Speer the 5-7, while H. Schattle the captain for Grand Prize had no trouble with the almost impossible 4-5-7 split. Good Bowling was again witnessed at the lanes as Boyce, Burke, Susik, Johnson and McGoldrick all turkeyed.

Here's the line up for the Ten high Bowlers for this young season, which undoubtedly will change consistally in the next few weeks. J. Boyce-176, M. Boyer-164, J. Humplik-162, D. Beck-161, S. Patillo-160, J. Goley-159, L. Hollas-158, P. Susik-157, W. Wertz-157, L. Marak-156 and J. Zawadzke-156.

Badgers To Meet Yellowjackets

Buckholts Badgers will be invaded tonight, October 11, by the Flat Yellowjackets, who last week fell before the Jarrell six-man squad. The Badgers last week downed the Sharp Mustangs by 38-18. This will be Buckholts second conference game of the 1957 season. Game time has been set at 8 p.m.

Last week the Badgers were leading the Mustangs by 26-6 at the end of the first half. The Sharp Mustangs tightened their defense in the second half during which both squads tallied with two touchdowns each.

Outstanding players for the Badgers in their first district tilt were Dwayne Orsag, Lamar Gresak, James Glaser, Stanley Glaser and Glenn Hutka, Leland Dean, Lloyd Locklin, Charles Swartz and Raymond Rydel led their Mustang teammates in the offense department.

Pep Rallies Fire Students' Spirit

Cameron football fans have failed to see a most important part of their team's and student's work until they have an opportunity o sit-in on a school pep rally. Such a session continues for approximately 45 minutes in the high school gymnasium. These rallies are both well organized and in an orderly procession. Only requirement for going through one is to be able to contend with those high pitched yells raised by the student body.

Following a fanfare by the Yoeman band and parading by the cheerleaders, Head Coach Lee Jackson makes a short talk to the students. He's really on the spot then. They expect a condensation of the "why's" of the previous game and a prediction on the one coming up. He is followed by both Coach Murphy Webster and Coach James Speer, both of whom will admit they are not orators of the "Daniel Webster caliber."

Then more yells and band music. This portion of the pep rally raises the spirit of both the players and the cheering section for the night game to follow.

Even a number of the players themselves are called forth by the head cheerleader to raise the spirit of both players and fans. These players were headed by Bobby Elliott, Guy Dillon and Paul Hoelscher at last Friday's rally. Elliott and Hoelscher in brief but certain statements announced they would beat the Bulldogs. Dillon in his words as well as his action on the football field carries unexcelled spirit and fire. Yells following his exit from the gym floor raises the rafters.

Strangely enough the three Yoeman coaches work hard all week to get their team in shape for a game. Meanwhile, four girl cheerleaders within only 45 minutes raise the spirits of their class mates to fever pitch. These cheerleaders are Sissie Varner, Bernice Zarosky, Frances Hubnik and Wanda Kirk.

"...just remember, I want my kitchen to be ALL-ELECTRIC!..."

Somewhere in the blueprint stage . . . this is a statement that's being made more and more often. There's wisdom behind it, too. Building a new home without an electric kitchen is somewhat like building a 1940 model automobile! So, if you're planning a new home, build it to modern standards . . . be sure your architect's specifications provide for an all-electric kitchen including the latest in electrical cooking, dishwashing and other conveniences . . . and really get your money's worth of modern living.

Reddy Kilowatt says: The heart of the home is the kitchen. Make it modern . . . insist on electric appliances . . . live better, electrically!

School Cafeterias Offer Well Rounded Menus At 5 For $1

Mothers and fathers of Cameron will be interested in the fact that for the first time in many years the public school system is getting state allotment for milk, served to their children at a cost of only three cents per glass whether they eat in the cafeteria or bring their lunches.

Leon Brady in charge of both Ada Henderson and Ben Milam cafeterias is making an intensive study of the situation and desires to make meals available at $1 per five meals in the school week with a second bottle of milk available if possible.

The menu for both cafeterias for the week beginning MONDAY, October 15 will be: Meat Loaf, greens, buttered mexicorn, cornbread, milk and peaches. TUESDAY: Pinto Beans with onions, whipped potatoes with grated cheese, carrot, raisin and apple salad, milk and hot rolls with butter, syrup, jelly or honey. WEDNESDAY: baked cheese sandwich, potato salad, green snap beans, milk. (extra bread on tables) and cookies. THURSDAY Ranch style beans with chili (canned pork and gravy), cheese slices, onion rings in vinegar, buttered spinach, cornbread, milk and peach cobbler FRDAY: Fish sticks (catsup), pepper-cabbage-onion slaw (vinegar style dressing) fried potatoes, bread and custard pudding.

Area Games Offer Appeal

Bryan Broncos, who were barely able to nose out the Cameron Yoemen by a score of 12-6 week before last, this past week downed the Killeen Kangaroos by a wide margin of 30-0. Killeen, a powerhouse in recent years on the gridiron, was unable to reach paydirt a single time against the surge of the Bryan team.

George Walker led his teammates in the TD department with two tallies while Johnny Neiderauer, Jack Stockton and Ross Falco each chalked up one touchdown.

In Rockdale on the same night found the Rockdale Tigers taking a win from Taylor by a one touchdown margin. Score of the game was 20-13. Rockdale led the Taylor Ducks in nearly every department with the exception of yardage gained through the air.

Greatest upset among the school boy teams in the area was Gatesville win over Lampasas by a score of 21-6. It was the first game won by the Lampasas Badgers in 17 starts. Yardage was picked up by the winning team entirely through ground plays although they did attempt three passes but failed to complete a single one.

Rosebud in a District 20-AA game defeated the Round Rock eleven by the wide margin of 26-7. Fullback William Schneider scored for the Rosebud Panthers three times while Quarterback John Allen accounted for the other Rosebud score. Rosebud rolled up 378 yards on the ground and another 50 yards through the air.

Other scores of interest in the Cameron area include Caldwell 20 Elgin 13; Navasota 13 - Breham 0, and La Vega 10 - Hillsboro 6.

Cameron Coaches Develop Character

By Gene Hayes

Football is well underway. Coach Leo Jackson's Yoemen are having a successful season. Some fans may look upon their losses earlier this season as very much the opposite of success. However, it is not the win column that distinguishes a high school's sports events in a success or failure light. The outstanding feature determining success is the spirit of the students and the sportsmanship qualities with which the players perform upon the field.

An average regular college player in this country fails to come up to the standards of our national professional teams. In like vein, all high school players cannot be on the winning team. Some are simply outclassed by those on other school teams. It is not a matter of lacking the strength, the speed, the spirit nor the desire to win. They are merely outclassed.

Do not get the idea that I or any other fan in Cameron do not wish a winning team. We all want to see the Yoemen win. But we want to see them win and hear the visiting fans speaking of the "clean ball" played by our boys rather than the fact their team lost because of "dirty tactics."

Should the boys themselves get to the point where they enter a game with the cocky attitude of playing around with their opponents and scoring at will, I for one think an upset by a team in the district's cellar would be the best thing for our players themselves. Life is hard enough without those characters, who think they are "IT" or that the world owes them their every desire.

Coaches of Character

I've known Coaches Leo Jackson, James Speer and Murphy Webster only a few days. In those days I've been with them uptown, in the athletic property room, at a pep rally and even during physical education classes. Within that amount of time one at least learns a little about another.

Those three men from their own point of view really want a winning team. However, at the same time they still prefer to develop the youngsters of Cameron into men of character as well as to develop their bodies into the best shapes possible.

They get a kick when two or three youngsters, without being so instructed, sprint down the track to see which is the speediest. Such contests never get on the record books. They are forgotten by the following day even by the youngsters participating. However, the good sportsmen and physical abilities formed stay with your children for life. And those are qualities preparing your sons and daughters for a happy and prosperous life later in your own life.

Safety Features

This year each of the players on the Cameron "A" squad and many of those on the "B" squad play in each game with nose and mouth guards. Such is an added expense of the school but even a greater savings to parents' peace of mind. These guards prevent injuries to a youth's mouth and nose that in previous years were destined to happen.

Helmets and the uniform as a whole protect the players' from injury to other parts of their body. Sporting goods houses spend thousands of dollars each year in their search to turn out uniforms as near perfection as possible in preventing injuries.

This raises the question of whether or not low cut or high cut shoes are the safest. The choice here at Cameron as to what will be used is left mainly with the players themselves. Linemen on the Yoeman squad tend to favor the high top cleated shoes while the backfield men favor the low cuts. Some coaches say low cuts develop the player's ankle and make injury harder to receive. Others say high cuts help bind the ankle and prevent sprains and breaks. It is not a matter of low cuts being the lighter of the two. The same price shoe from the same manufacturer will reveal the low cuts weighing about four ounces more than the high cuts.

On this piece of equipment, I think it is largely a matter of choice. If the player desires one particular type, then that is the one he should use.

Any Outgrown Scout Uniforms Needed By Troop

There is a need for perhaps ten Boy Scout uniforms in one troop of 23. Some of these boys may not be able to purchase one and if anyone in town has a son above the 11-14 age bracket who has an out-lived scout uniform that he would like to dispense with as one additional GREAT BIG good turn either he or his mother may do so by calling 1337.

Ike Can't Make It Rain, But He's Still Best Man

The other day I asked a farmer if it was dry out his way. He said it sure was. "Looks like we just can't get any rain," he said. "Why, when Noah had his 40-day flood, we didn't get over half an inch."

There's no mistake about it, Texas is having itself a real drouth. Some of the farmers and ranchers in our county are in such bad shape that they may vote for Stevenson.

Old Man Jones, from across the river, said he wasn't going to go to any such extreme. He said he needed rain as bad as anybody else. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the preacher was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, anyway.

"I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisenhower is keeping it from raining."

He said he knew that Stevenson and Kefauver acted like they thought so, and they had a right to their opinion. Lyndon Johnson, he figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Rayburn had known whether it was raining or not for the last 25 years.

"I hate not to go along with such a widely known crowd of weather observers," Old Man Jones said. "If there's anybody who keeps up with which way the wind is blowing, generally speaking, it's Stevenson, Kefauver and Johnson."

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody—including him. If he was in the White House, he would do things different, at least in our county. He allowed that the $61,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and still not made all the farmers happy and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, "I keep remembering that the main reason for our troubles, besides the drouth, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump on President Eisenhower, there is a real issue. They've sure got the goods on Ike in that respect. If he hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be higher, no doubt. I wonder why they never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had something there. We have got to adjust to peace-time, which is taking awhile but President Eisenhower is working at it. And meanwhile our boys aren't fighting and dying on foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

Yours truly,
Tex

MODERN HOMEMAKING

RECIPES . . . HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter

HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

Today's busy homemaker who learns to prepare a variety of salads will find she is well on the way toward easier-to-prepare, more tasteful meals.

Salads can serve either as a main dish, as an accompaniment to the main dish, as a dessert or as a party food. Other advantages of learning to prepare a variety of good salads include saving time on meal preparation, being able to prepare meals ahead of time and turning leftovers into tempting table extras.

During hot summer months, salads permit the homemaker to serve light foods to her family. Salads can make a meal refreshing and add color to the table.

It seems there is always a salad to suit each individual personality. Today, for instance, many people are dieting. They turn to salads as a source of low calorie food. Others who cannot eat certain foods find their appetites satisfied with salads.

When youngsters rebel against eating a needed vegetable, they may often be induced to eat that particular vegetable when mixed into a salad. The same may also hold true with fruit.

Salads afford the homemaker opportunity to use her imagination freely when preparing a meal. She can substitute an ingredient in an old favorite recipe and often come up with a new delight for the whole family. Or, she can create her own salad recipe and bring a new touch to the table.

Here are some suggestions that will add the "artistic touch" to a salad: (1) For a crisp and fresh appearance, combine or arrange salads just before serving; (2) Chill ingredients thoroughly before combining in a salad; (3 Keep the arrangement of the salad plate as simple as possible; (4) Watch for color, texture and flavor variety when combining salad ingredients.

For additional free information on salads send a postcard to the Home Economics Department, Lone Star Gas Company, Room 601, 301 S. Harwood, Dallas, Tex.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Green-cabbage Salad: Combine two cups shredded cabbage, ½ cup chopped parsley, and one medium onion sliced and separated in rings. Chill in refrigerator. Combine, stirring until sugar is dissolved, two teaspoons sugar, three teaspoons vinegar, two tablespoons salad oil and one teaspoon salt. Pour over vegetables, toss lightly until well mixed. Garnish with additional onion rings. Yields four servings.

Gas Rang Easy To Clean And Easy To Keep Clean

Today's homemaker with an eye for a spick-and-span appearance in her kitchen demands a cooking appliance that is easy to clean and easy to keep clean.

Gas ranges are easy to clean because burners, burner bowls, grates and other parts may be placed in the sink for a soap and water washing. Just like a dish! The homemaker doesn't have to burn or scrape spillovers. There are fewer spillovers with gas, because burner adjustment is easy. Top of the range, the gas oven and broiler linings, too, wipe clean with the swish of a cloth. Oven and broiler parts lift out for easy cleaning in the sink.

Gas itself causes none of the grease and dirt in a kitchen. If there is dirt or grease on kitchen walls, it is from rising grease and vapor—from the food, not the fuel—gathering dust and dirt from the air and depositing it on cold surfaces.

Here's the proof: Next time the homemaker removes a light globe in a room where no cooking is done, she should notice the greasy film on it. It's as simple as that!

Hangover Heat Absent In Gas Range Cooking

Energy-saving layouts and efficient meal-planning centers in the modern kitchen have increased the importance of having a range that is highly functional as well as streamlined. Homemakers today are learning with pleasure that gas cooking makes pot watching, hit-or-miss meals and steamy kitchens as outmoded as a wood cook stove.

Homemakers find that gas is faster and more flexible than other cooking methods, that it responds instantly to finger-tip control and gives dozens of degrees of heat so necessary for things that boil or scorch easily.

Top burners turn on and off instantly. There's no hang-over heat with a modern gas range. Gas gives the extremely low turn-down heat for keeping foods at a tasty serving temperature without over-cooking.

Gas gives the control that is so necessary in pan frying, for when fat is too cool, it tends to creep into the food, making it heavy and difficult to digest. When too hot, on the other hand, it becomes disagreeable in flavor and odor.

Broiling, too, is at its best with gas. There is no overcooking and no delayed warm-up to dry it out. Only gas gives such perfect broiling with the broiler door closed, which means that kitchens stay cool and smokeless.

Cameron Stores Have The Range For Your Need

Whether it is automobiles or gas ranges it is the PRICE RANGE that counts with American shoppers.

The housewife who has a job to do "At home on the range" can't be too selective in her choice of her gas range and the Cameron housewife is fortunate to have a wide range from which to select her home cooking equipment.

Ranges she will want to inspect in Cameron, whether in the market for a new one immediately or not, are the DIXIE, the DETROIT JEWEL, the ROPER, the TAPPAN and the WIZARD.

These old and respected ranges are to be found at the old and respected business establishments, in Cameron, of Eplen and Culpepper Furniture stores, the Western Auto and White Auto stores and Archer Electric.

Bennie Archer will tell you all about the myriad of extra-convenience features of the Roper "family" of ranges. For instance there is the "Insta-lite" automatic top burner ignition; the sun-tone "Spill-aways"; the concealed porcelain enamel spillage trays and the automatic oven heat control plus a dozen or so other features that Bennie says makes the Roper a sought after range. In the price range this firm has everything from the "Rangette" for the apartment to the terrific "Town and Country" series with its electric timer and "Griddle" cooking top.

At the White Auto Store, Bill Crockett has the Jewel of ranges. A name in ranges as old as ranges. From the days of the old "Pot-belly" Detroit Jewel heating stove to this modern day and age the Jewel is still a "League Leader." Bill will tell you about modern quality features such as the oven door insert which permits the door to be opened and the insert left in place, keeping the heat inside and allows the cook to observe the interior through a window. Safety top oven racks which prevent utensils from falling or tilting and the rounded, embossed oven rack glides and corners which make Detroit Jewel's Even Temp Oven easy to clean.

At Western Auto you will find the Wizard range with the exciting copper-glo trim! Albert Hajovsky says that he has a Wizard in the style and size you want at a price you can afford. The Wizard, a Western Auto brand name, is as stable as the firm that sells it. The best features of this brand can only be shown by the salesman to the shopper. Anyone interested in a range change will not want to buy until the Wizard has been inspected.

At Culpeppers it's the aristocrat of ranges. The Tappan claims every modern feature in gas ranges you have ever wanted. These include the visualite chrome lined oven, thermostat control, the tap-o-matic panel, four-in-line burners, the lift up top and the press-toe adjust-to-height broiler. These are not all the features but just a few which only point up Tappan's superiority for the discerning housewife.

Let Morris Eplen show off the Dixie the fully automatic range which he claims has "Everything you want for less!" Because Dixie is one of the largest gas range manufacturers in the world...a position earned through years of painstaking engineering, quality control and finest craftsmanship. The Dixie range provides more luxury features and finer more beautiful styling than any other range ever offered at such a low low price. The Eplen Furniture Company has this economy range and anyone due a range change will be more than repaid for seeing the Dixie.

On AN Y of these ranges the cook will be "Cooking with Gas" and to make a wise selection in the range of your choice call on Eplen Furniture, Culpepper Furniture, Western Auto Store, White Auto Store, and Archer Electric Company. You'll not go wrong if you see them all before you change your range.

Rainfall Brings Smiles To City

Citizens in and around Cameron on Thursday afternoon, October 4, were in high spirits. Mid-afternoon on that day found merchants, their customers and other business men in Cameron outside their business houses. Without exception there was a smile on each and everyone's face.

Oil had not been discovered. The government had not abolished taxes. Marilyn Monroe had not taken up residence in Cameron nor Milam County. It was nothing so insignificant!

Rain was falling. Not enough fell but what precipitation that did fall was slow enough to be absorbed by the ground without runoff. According to Alvin Hefft's office at the Cameron Water Department, .31 inches fell at the water plant. Elsewhere within the city, the rainfall as reported by different citizens varied from .27 to .41 inches.

LP-Gas Tank Size Guide

CHICAGO—To prevent any possible shortages of LP-Gas this winter, the National LP-Gas Council urges rural, small town, and suburban users of the fuel to fill their storage tanks as soon as possible—certainly before the end of the month. By doing so they will assure themselves of a source of dependable fuel—regardless of weather conditions—throughout the winter.

The council also urges consumers to be sure their storage tanks are adequate for their individual LP-Gas needs.

As a guide to users, the above map shows the average tank size needed for home heating in six weather zones. These sizes will also assure an adequate supply of LP-Gas for other uses including cooking, automatic water heating, refrigeration, incineration, and clothes drying.

To determine the approximate tank size you need, check the gallonage figures on the map in your weather zone. If your present tank size does not correspond, ask your LP-Gas dealer to analyze your specific needs to determine the correct tank size for your home.

Kenneth R. D. Wolfe, president of the council, pointed out that spot shortages occurred in some sections of the country last winter as the result of prolonged cold weather. He said that many of these shortages would not have occurred if consumers had made full use of their home tanks by filling them early. Bulk LP-Gas dealers would then have been able to empty and refill their bulk plant storage facilities before the winter peak.

Because of the steel strike it is even more important for consumers to fill their tanks early this year, Wolfe said. The strike curtailed production of tanks, tank cars, and trucks vitally needed to handle increased LP-Gas production and demand. Sales of LP-Gas were up 17 per cent in 1955 and are expected to be even higher

COUNTING FARM BUREAU MEMBERS is a source of satisfaction to this official family of the Milam County Bureau. With the kickoff dinner at S-G Memorial Hall recently the Milam quota was soon within grasp and at this writing is mighty close to over the top. PICTURED ARE: Reading left to right, William F. Milam Farm Bureau Kicks Off Membership Drive At S-G Hall

The Milam County Farm Bureau had its state director of Organization Millard Shivers, from Waco, point his finger figuratively at each member sitting around a sumptuous meal at the Simon-George Memorial Hall Thursday night September 27 and say "It is your responsibility."

It is the responsibility of the Farm Bureau membership to study and act toward removing the road blocks to earning a higher net by the means of more trading and marketing as against warehousing which is affecting the market for new products. The warehoused surplus today is over $12 billion dollars, the speaker said.

We need to get our income in sound dollars the director declared, we must halt the threats to individual freedom and strengthen ourselves for peach to prevent the disaster of war.

To build a better America with opportunities for all Shivers said we must stop inflation for should it continue from 1950 to 1960 as it did from '40 to '50 our dollar will be worth less than a 1940 dime by 1960.

The farmers are realizing more and more that they must speak for themselves as evidenced by the more than 12,600 more members in Texas than at this time last year the director said. And Organization wise the Southern regior in approximately 27,000 a head of last year.

There are more than 351 Farm Bureau organizations in America with headquarters in Washington D. C. There are three Farm organizations represented in Washington, the speaker said, with three out of every four members in the U.S. in the Farm Bureau.

Milam County has been given a quota of eleven hundred members and at the time of the meeting there were only 248 outstanding to make the quota.

There are at least 57,000 members in Texas at this time said the director and with the present impetus that figure will be greatly enlarged before the current member drive is finished.

Shivers came to Texas from Columbia Tennessee on March 5, 1956. He has been in Farm Bureau work since 1949 and a director of organization since 1952. He is a graduate of the University of Tennessee where he majored in dairy and vocational agriculture education. He was a vocational education instructor at the University of Tennessee and has farmed and owned a milling business.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Happy Swap

More and more farmers—who badly need hired help sometimes, but can't afford a full-time hand—are making deals with young town workers and the employers they work for.

For instance, young Hap Hooper now lives rent-free on Easy Roberts' farm. In return he works about 100 days a year for Easy—for a farmhand's pay.

The rest of the year Hap works for his "regular" boss . . . Buzz Ellis, the electrician. Buzz just speeds up his business when Hap's on hand—slows it down when he isn't—and, like Easy, pockets healthy savings in wages.

From where I sit, it's great how people with different backgrounds—and different viewpoints—can co-operate. How about more of us trying that? I live in a town—maybe you're a farmer. I'm partial to a good glass of beer—you may prefer coffee or milk. But we can make things pleasanter by ignoring differences and giving each other a "hand."

Cameron Area Farmers Turning To Crop Residue Conservation

Management of crop residues is becoming important as a soil and water conservation practice in this area each year. Some district cooperators in the Cameron area, who are making a special effort to utilize their crop residues for conservation purposes are, M. J. Sparks, Joe Mueck, Herman Mueck, Gordon Baskin, Johnny Richter, Henry Richter and Steve Polzer in the Salem Community south and west of Cameron.

North of Cameron Clyde Hensley, Charles Hensley, Monroe Lucko, Charles Lucko and Johnny Goode are managing their residues to protect and improve the soil.

Best results of managing crop residue can be obtained if the residues of grain sorghums, corn stalks, field grasses and other growing vegetation can be handled in such a manner that it will be left on the soil surface or mixed slightly into the top soil rather than plowing it under. Stalk shredders and stalk cutters do a good job of cutting the crop residues into small pieces so that it will not interfere with farming operations and leave it scattered uniformly over the fields.

This gives the fields a trashy look and the appearance of haphazard farming, but this method of managing crop residue is a new concept and improved method of conservation farming based on the principle of controlling erosion by providing a dead cover of plants and litter on cropland much like nature leaves a dead dormant cover of summer grasses on pasture land to protect it from winter erosion.

A cover of dead grasses and litter of approximately 2,000 pounds per acre on pasture land will do a good job of controlling erosion and result in more moisture soaking into the soil during rains. Nature provides this dead cover and litter on pasture land for soil protection and does an effective job. The farmer can do the same on the cultivated land and obtain the same results as nature does on pasture land.

This dead cover and litter acts as a cushion for the beating raindrops easing the moisture into the soil. A raindrop falling on bare soil literally explodes. The force of a raindrop hitting the soil is about the same as the force of an ordinary pocket knife dropped from a height of 16 to 18 inches. The falling raindrop with this force knocks out a hole in the soil and as it bounces back into the air it carries this detached soil with it. Many raindrops falling on sloping land soon cause the soil to bounce down hill. In low places these raindrops collect and become running water which often causes gullies. Along with the bouncing action the surface of the soil becomes packed and sealed which reduces the amount of rain that soaks into the soil and results in increased run-off and erosion.

The dead cover provided by the simple operation of leaving the residue on the soil surface helps prevent the bouncing of the rain. Raindrops striking this cover cannot remove soil and bounce it down the hill. Raindrops falling on a cover are eased into the soil and no packing or sealing takes place since the rain does not strike bare ground. Temperatures are better controlled by the cover and the bacteria and other forms of soil life which are dependent on proper temperature are given an opportunity to perform their special job of changing litter into organic matter.

It may seem very ironic to talk about providing for soil protection at this time when there had been so little rain that farmers have not been able to make a decent crop much less have soil erosion. However, according to past experience, we should have normal rainfall again and we surely hope it will be this fall. Unless proper provisions for soil protection and cover are made in advance it is anticipated that much of the rainfall will be lost as run-off and should the rainfall be heavy and of high intensity much soil washing will occur. If this litter can be provided run-off and erosion will be reduced and more of the rain will soak into the soil and be available for next year's crop.

Best Reading Non-Fiction Is History Of Milam County, Texas

Mistress of the Sycamores, Mrs. Lelia McAnally Batte, of Cameron, author of "Master of the Sycamores" and the current best reading non-fiction in Central Texas "History of Milam County, Texas."

The history begins in the beginning with the original Milam County grant and brings the reader down through the ages with the details of a perfectionist through the advent of the modern Milam Collossus of the Aluminum Company of America works near Rockdale.

Mrs. Batte has a refreshing and unusual approach to her subject. While she does not in the least neglect the larger subjects and currents of her county's history, nothing is too small to escape her attention. Her treatment of the development and vicissitudes of Cameron's fire department is one example of her unconventional yet stimulating method, wherein she mentions personalities with the satisfaction and healthy loyalty of a newspaper editor reporting on the doings of his community. It is this folksy concern with people and events which lifts the familiar frame that all too often contains dull pictures.

The chapters dealing with transportation, education and religion are especially informative. The political structure and its background, the physical and economic geography, show a grasp of the operation of modern history, rare indeed in the writing of regional accounts.

She includes identifying paragraphs that locate and describe thriving towns often that were bypassed by the railroads and forgotten by the Highway department.

The history is well foot-noted and has a 35 page index which makes what the publishers call a "Regular" history or a history which is documented and is drawn from the collections and not from the recollections of the author.

Mrs. Batte is said to have devoted much of her life to the events of her own area and the thoroughness and accuracy of her book, reflect the long hours of research, possible only in the presence of real devotion to a task.

The first half of the book is devoted to events before 1900 and is particularly well done. The treatment of the Austin-Robertson controversy is somewhat surprising in view of the ultimate vindication of the Robertson claims, but the author's position is not without merit. The Civil War is styled the War Between the States and is handled temperately and factually.

Mrs. Batte is District President of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Dedication of the book is in memory of Robert Lee Batte, husband 1863-1951 and Clyde DeLay Batte, son who was a Sergeant in the U.S. Army 1926-1944.

A History of Milam County autographed by the author can be obtained by addressing a letter directly to Mrs. Lelia M. Batte Batte Town, Cameron, Texas.

Local District Farm Goes All Out In Conservation

Two miles of large chanel type terraces are being constructed on the farm of district cooperator, E. I. Cervenka. The farm is located two miles west of Granger, Texas. Cervenka resides on his ranch near Round Rock, Texas.

One-fourth mile of diversion terrace is also being constructed on the farm and a waterway is being shaped in preparation for sodding to Bermuda grass.

Construction work is being facilitated through contractor services with a motor grader.

Contour farming in connection with cropping the terraced land will be followed according to Cervenka, to further resist erosion processes.

Approximately thirty acres of rolling severely eroded cropland will be protected against further damage through sheet and gully erosion by the construction and maintenance of these terraces, according to Soil Conservation Service personnel who have supervised the installation of the work.

the sanitarian accompanied Kenneth C. Lauderdale, senior Sanitarian, from the district engineer's office in Houston, on an inspection tour of the Rockdale City water supply. Also a survey was made on the Praesel Sub-Division water supply. The citizens of Buckholts are trying to organize a Water District for the purpose of attempting to find a water supply for that city. Lauderdale advised with the Water Committee regarding this project. He and the sanitarian checked into the water supply of the Buckholts school, which is being hauled from the Rogers City supply.

The sanitarian has begun his fall visits to the schools and school cafeterias. School water supplies are being studied and assistance given where it is possible.

The drouth and water shortage has become a problem, especially private supplies. The sanitarian has spent quite some time treating these supplies and sending in water samples to the Laboratory in Austin.

Considerable rodent and roach control work has been done during the month of September.

The sanitarian was in conference with James E. Poore, College Station, and Grover C. Marshall, San Antonio, both with the Fish and Wild Life Service, regarding a city-wide rodent control in the city of Cameron. Plans have been formulated to begin this project October 22. The program will be sponsored by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce and conducted by the U. S. Fish and Wild Life Service assisted by the sanitarian with the local health unit.

Orphan Dog And Kittens Need A Home

There is a black and tan puppy, "a playful little fellow" that needs a nice home. He has some playmates too, some kittens, that are about to become orphans and the puppy sends word that he would like to have some nice little boy or girl take him and his chums in and give them a nice warm place to sleep and a little "free milk" (he heard about the milk program at school). Well the puppy is only two years old, not old enough to really go to school, but he is smart and he can learn to catch mice and he is old enough to play ball with a little boy or girl.

J. W. Mowdy, at 1308 N. Crockett, is leaving Cameron for a long stay and he says that anyone who will promise to give his pets a nice home may have them by calling at his residence soon, before he has to leave.
